

Chef Chan's Private Dine

OUR STORY

Chef Chan Private Dine offers luxurious Cantonese dining in the privacy of an all-private room concept. The restaurant is helmed by Chef Wong Hong Loong, a protégé of celebrity Chef Chan Chen Hei of Hai Tien Lo and Chef Chan's Restaurant fame.

He is an expert in Cantonese cuisine, both the familiar favourites as well as the updated classics with a contemporary twist.

As the head of Chef Chan's Restaurant previously located at the National Museum of Singapore, Chef Wong is perhaps best known for his signature dish of steamed Empurau Fish, a rare and expensive delicacy sought after by his loyal customers.

With more than 20 years of experience cooking for VIPs who include government ministers, foreign dignitaries and famous personalities, Chef Wong also knows much about pampering his guests.

GIANT GAROUPA SKIN

A rare delicacy from a 200kg giant garoupa

200kg Giant Garoupa Skin
A rare catch, seldom seen at this size

Duo Platter
Crispy Suckling Pig with Glutinous Rice and
Sauteed Garoupa Skin with Spring Onion and Ginger

Braised Giant Garoupa Skin with
Seasonal Vegetable and Mushroom

A rare tasty experience at Chef Chan's Private Dine.

While the giant garoupa itself is not served, its prized skin is transformed into a rich, savoury delicacy – carefully prepared by Master Chef Wong Hong Loong.

A unique dish for those who appreciate traditional technique, rare ingredients, and something truly memorable.
